

Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 12 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Mainly dry with sunny spells. Wintry showers far northeast.

Today:

Most places will be dry with long sunny spells but a few wintry showers will continue across the Northern Isles, Caithness and Buchan. Icy start, then a cold day. Mostly light winds, stronger for Shetland.

Tonight:

A dry evening with frost setting in quickly. Overnight high cloud will thicken, then lower in the west with some rain reaching the far southwest by dawn.

Wednesday:

The northeast will stay dry and fairly bright. Rain will spread into the south and west, with some snow or freezing rain possible as it edges further inland.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Rain, with snow in east, overnight and Thursday morning, some travel disruption. Drier in afternoon. More rain, hill snow on Friday, early Saturday, turning showery later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.